

EARLY CAREER FRAMEWORK JOINT BRIEFING

All new teachers starting at your school from next academic year will be entitled to a two year fully-funded induction programme accredited by the Department for Education.

The Early Career Teacher Programme replaces previous NQT development and training and gives Early Career Teachers (ECT) support through on line materials and mentoring for two years. Accessing this programme through the Coventry and Central Warwickshire Teaching School Hub (for those in Warwick or Rugby), Tudor Grange Teaching School Hub (for those in South Warwickshire) or John Taylor Teaching School Hub (for those in North Warwickshire) will mean this training is fully funded by the DfE.

Whilst each ECT will still have an in school mentor, they will also have local face to face training (initially online), self-directed study from high quality materials, support from a cluster of ECTs with experienced facilitators and an annual Induction Conference, all fully funded when registering with us. The DfE funding covers all aspects of the programme as well as 10% time-off timetable in Year 1 and 5% time-off timetable in Year 2 for Early Career Teachers. There is also funding for the mentor to have meeting time in school and for them to receive training of the excellent standard expected from UCL - Institute of Education (Central) or Education Development Trust (North and South).

Warwickshire LA, Tudor Grange Teaching School Hub, John Taylor Teaching School Hub and The Coventry and Central Warwickshire Teaching School Hub (working in partnership with the Gateway Alliance) are pleased to be holding a joint online briefing via Zoom on:

DATE: 9th June 2021
TIME: 16:00-17:30

To register for the event click here: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84451234567>

Please note that this briefing is a repeat of previous ECF briefings (held for the Central schools on 29th April, schools in the South on 4th May, 5th May, 6th May and in the North 30th April, 11th May) and so these schools don't need to attend again.

