

Feedback not Marking

Developing effective feedback and assessment in the primary classroom

The Griffin Teaching School Alliance

Lawrence Sheriff School
A National Teaching School

A course aimed at senior leaders who are looking to develop teaching and learning and improve staff work-life balance across the school, by moving away from a marking policy towards an assessment/feedback policy.

We will consider a range of strategies for feedback and assessment across the curriculum and how to implement this as a whole-school policy, as well as having the opportunity to look at examples of lessons and work in books and speak to children about how the change has impacted on their learning.
