

Isabella Wallace Day – Co-author of ‘Talk-Less Teaching’ and ‘Pimp your lesson!’

Wednesday 21st June 2017, 9.30am – 3.30pm

Venue: Stratford upon Avon

Isabella Wallace is co-author of the bestselling teaching guides, Pimp Your Lesson! and Talk-Less Teaching. She knows exactly what's needed to make teaching Outstanding, and shares it through her unique brand of fresh, thoroughly modern, highly practical training.

A motivating and inspiring day for all teachers. You will come away with a toolbox of exciting ideas, techniques and resources to ensure that all learners are engaged and challenged at the same time as demonstrating visible progress. Strategies will be realistic and useable by delegates the very next day in subjects across the curriculum and in the different Key Stages.

These were just a few of the feedback comments from the last conference we held in June 2015...

Very inspirational day – I'm buzzing! Thank you.

One of the best CPDs I have ever attended. Thank you.

Excellent presentation. I was hooked all the way through!

Lots of different ideas and strategies that can be used with children, staff, governors and parents.

So many ideas/resources! which will also take little time to prepare.

Very inspiring and relevant. Easy to follow and see the way it can impact.

A fantastic conference! Truly inspiring.

Brilliant. Really useful ideas for classroom use as well as whole school impact.

Feel reinvigorated! Now know that there are easy fixes to help transform my own and colleagues learning.

The conference is being organised by Coventry Diocese but is open to teachers from all schools

Cost: £280 (invoiced to school)

50% discount for subsequent places
