Time Saving Technology

With workload being of real concern, in particular to new teachers, this hands-on session will look at the EdTech that serving teachers are using to reduce their workload.

Technology has a role to play in teaching, marking, and data management, but using technology as a gimmick devalues what you are doing in the classroom.
Come and find out about what works from the people using it.

NQTs teaching in Years 6 to 13 are welcome to attend
