

NEWS FLASH!!

We are delighted to announce that our in-person training events are back! This year, the School DPO Service have teamed up with the Education Legal team to bring you a training event that will be packed full of useful information. Read below for further details and complete the form linked at the bottom of the page to reserve your place.

What will the training involve?

Sophie Scullion, Team Lead for the School Data Protection Officer Service, will lead a session on the UK GDPR and what schools need to be doing to ensure they are complying with their data protection obligations. If there are any specific topics you would like us to cover in this part of the session, please note your request on the sign-up form.

Guy Darvill, Warwickshire's Senior Education Solicitor, will lead a session on how to ensure you support children who are protected by the Equality Act 2010 and avoid discrimination claims on the grounds of disability, race, religion or belief, sex, gender reassignment, age, or sexual orientation.

When and where?

The training event will be held at Heart of England Conference Centre on 14th March 2023. Registration will be open from 9:15am and we anticipate the day to conclude by no later than 3:30pm. Lunch and refreshments will be provided.

Costs?

This event is completely free of charge. You do not need to be a subscriber of either the legal or data protection officer service to attend. So, please feel free to spread the word.

Who would benefit from attending the training?

This training session is aimed at school Headteachers and Business Managers. However, anyone working within a school can attend.

Where do we sign up?

To reserve your place, please complete the attached form. Please note that places are limited and will be allocated on a first come first served basis. We recommend reserving your place as soon as possible. If we run out of places, we will add your details to a waiting list. If we have enough interest, we will look to hold another event early in the next academic year. Please note that we will send out confirmation emails to those who have been allocated a place for this event. We will also notify you if we have been unable to accommodate you on this occasion. We therefore ask that you notify us as soon as possible if you are no longer able to attend so that your place can be allocated to someone else.
